Mrs. Lou Burgess was up from Clifty last week looking after business at the bank and doing shopping.

In this issue appears the announcement of R. A. Powell as a candidate for the nomination for trustee. Mr. Powell made the race for this office several years ago and was defeated by 36 votes. His ability, reliability and general qualifications for the office he seeks can hardly be surpassed by any person in the county. He is a farmer and cattleman, is widely known in this and adjoining counties and his business ability is fully recognized. He has been an active business man in this county and section ever since reaching his majority and stands high both as a business man and citizen. Should he be nominated and elected the office would be in safe and capable hands.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors who so kindly ministered unto us during the illness and death of our dear mother and grandmother. Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Angel, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Selby and Family, Mrs. May W. Rector, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Hedgecoth.

TO MAKE CROSSVILLE A BETTER TOWN

The Chronicle has arranged with some of the leading Crossville citizens for a few articles suggesting what should be done for our town to make it a better town to live in and more attractive to good and progressive people as a place to live. In order that the writers may feel perfectly free to express themselves without being censured, the Chronicle has decided to withhold the names of the writers.

The articles being written by those interested in the welfare of our town and county, are calculated to be of much benefit if the suggestions are only acted upon, but it will do little or no good if they are only written and read and no action taken. What we want to do is to ACT. There are no more generous, sympathetic and hospitable people any where than in Crossville and Cumberland county. They are ready and willing to be led if only some one will suggest the way and lead.

For our town there should be a closer relation between our business men in a business way. We have been going along, every fellow for himself without any thought of the other fellow. Our business men should have a business men's organization, call it what you please, where we can be brought together at stated intervals to consider our successes and our failures; our needs and ways and means of bettering conditions for ourselves, our neighbors and our community. At the head of this organization should be placed our most wide awake, progressive business men, who have the ability and willingness to lead. Then our ladies should also have some organization in which they could meet and discuss and devise ways and means for concerted action looking to the betterment of our town, but neither can the men or women do very much so long as every one is going it alone. There must be concerted action. We must work together, we must have the same purposes and desires. We need to run the knocker out of town, we don't have any room for him. The man who will stand around on the street corners and tell a stranger and prospective citizen that he should be careful lest he falls among thieves and land sharks, is a knocker and his room is more preferable than his company. He is an enemy to our town. Our real estate men are honest, high class men and should receive the hearty support and co-operation of us all. We need to be boosters instead of knockers, then let us begin to boost. Let us talk about our advantages instead of our disadvantages. Let us quit crying "hardtimes" and set about to make goodtimes. Conditions are just about what we want them to be, if they were not we would set about to make them different.

Then for our country, let us get our farmers together in some kind of a farmer's association and get the farmers to work together in a sensible, business way. As it is now every farmer is working for himself without any thought of the other fellow; he moves along in the same way, not knowing possibly, that there is a different and better way, when if he belonged to a live, wide-awake farmers' organization, he would meet with his fellow farmers and give and take new ideas and methods and go back to his farm better prepared to make a success of his business.

There are so many ways that we might better conditions that space forbids mention of them further in this article, but the editor's efforts will be in vain if we fail to take advantage of the opportunity he has given for the discussion of subjects that will be helpful through the columns of the Chronicle.—So come on some one else.

Let us organize; let us quit knocking; let us boost our town and county.

FORMER CITIZEN DEAD.

Cheanie Reese, aged 40 years, died from an operation for cancer of the bowels, at a hospital in California January 18.

His father, Harry Reese went immediately and brought the remains to Thomas Springs cemetery for burial, which took place January 29.

The deceased was reared in this county and went to California about four years ago to make his home. He had been in frail health for several months.

He leaves a wife and six small children there. His father and mother Mr. and Mrs. Harry Reese, two brothers, Jim and Fred Reese, of Thomas Springs, and three sisters, Mrs. Harrison Simmons, of Lendale, Georgia, Mrs. Kenneth Bryant, of Clifty, and Miss Eliza Reese, also a host of friends in this county to mourn his departure.

The bereaved ones have the sympathy of the entire community. Jan. 30. M. W.

Miss Lois Anderson arrived Sunday from Graysville for a visit with Mrs. W. A. Reed.

NORTH CROSSVILLE

According to the "ground-hog tradition" we have forty days more of winter, but from the chatter and twitter of the blue bird, our spring has already dawned.

Mrs. C. G. Black and Miss Martha Black were down Sunday afternoon looking over their new home, which is rapidly nearing completion.

T. E. Measamer is rushing with the clearing off and preparing his land for a spring garden, and is making quite an improvement on his premises opposite the school-ground.

Rev. Koser has let the contract for erecting a five-room cottage on his property adjoining W. D. Harrill and James Smith. Lumber is being placed upon the ground and the cwork will be rushed to completion at an early date.

Miss Mable Brown, of Fentress county, Miss Beula Milligan, of near Livingston, who have been housed in with the measles since Christmas, were able to return to their school work last week.

Miss Hazel Rose is spending some time with home folks at Pomona Road having her eyes examined while there.

John Davis Allison, of Crawford, and Shirley Eldridge, of Timothy, who have had a siege of measles, have returned to school.

Charles Harrill has been missing several days from school since Christmas from tonsillitis.

The Basket ball game which was to have been played at Crossville Saturday evening between Cumberland College boys and Crossville High, was postponed to some future date, because of the inclemency of the weather. Feb. 6. XX.

HEBBERTSBURG

John Lewis and son was doing business in the valley last week.

George Tollett has been on the sick list for the past two weeks.

Ulysses Brown and family, of Rockwood, are visiting friends and relatives in the valley this week.

G. M. Thompson and little niece, Manza Wilson, went to Pikeville Saturday to have dental work done.

A goodly number of the children of the settlement have been sick with colds during the bad weather.

Mrs. Nancy Bise went to Linary today to take some hens to her mother, Mrs. Lela Turner, that the people of the community donated to her. Feb. 6. XX.

J. L. Burnett announces his candidacy for trustee in this issue. He is so widely known by the people of the county that any formal introduction of him to the people is entirely superfluous. For nearly ten years he has been engaged in business in Crossville, has had dealings with practically every person in the county and his qualifications for the office he seeks are so well known that little remains to be said other than to announce his candidacy. His ability for the duties of the office are unquestioned. His geniality and goodfellowship renders him a strong candidate. His canvass of the county will be active and energetic and he will have a strong following.
